The Hunt for the next CEO

The hectic pace that defines the world of business incapacitates jacks of all trades; they need to be masters instead, if they are to prove their might in the corporate jungle. Numero Uno hunts for that stellar STUDent who possesses the skills to be a future business leader.

And it's not going to be easy!

This tough roller coaster ride runs across all the days of Vista, and challenges the participants' ability to think on their feet, guts to perform under enormous duress, and calls into question their skills in creativity, entrepreneurial spirit, stamina, teamwork and communication. Participation is by invitations and only the best from their territories compete, ensuring high quality competition. This only means it's going to be a gruelling stress test for all the challengers. Spectators have loads to look forward to in this event, with each prospect rolling up his sleeves and revealing the ace up there!

With Numero Uno, there is not an iota of doubt: only the best man CAN win.

Format

The event will be held over all the three days of VISTA:

Day 1: First module on day-1 shall test the participants on the capability to strategize. The candidates will be put in a boardroom environment and their skills to come on top with limited resources will be tested. The second module on day-1 will test the participant's ability to apply the classroom concepts to real life situations.

Day 2: Physical stamina is essential for mental stamina, or is it so? The first half of the day tests candidates in physical activities and we are not saying that these will not be mentally taxing! Second half of the Day-2 promises to be extremely exciting. The activities test the business acumen of the candidates. And here we force you to move away from the pen & drawing board to the actual battlefield. Do business and show us the money!

Day 3: Let's see you prove yourself to the leaders of today. The grand finale of Numero Uno takes place on the third day with the best 6 people vying for the ultimate prize.
